

Characteristics of Effective Learning

The characteristics of effective learning are:

Playing and Exploring – engagement

Active Learning – Motivation

Creating and Thinking Critically

Here at Morley, we look closely at how children learn. We provide rich and stimulated activities based on children's interests and experiences to enable children to be motivated, engaged and think critically.

Under our guidance and encouragement, children continue to thrive and grow. They become learners who are willing to have a go and to take risks in their own learning. Children are confident to take on new challenges and push their own learning on. Our children become resilient and determined with a 'can do' attitude.
