

Our Core Offer

At our academies we aim to:

- Provide high quality, adaptive teaching
- Take a holistic view of children's needs
- Recognise and value neurodiversity
- Work to overcome and remove barriers to learning
- Celebrate strengths and support wellbeing
- Develop pupils' independence
- Support all pupils to be happy and successful learners.

Our SEND Information Report (SIR) is reviewed annually and is revised in discussion with parents/carers, pupils, staff and governors. Please let us know if you would like to be part of a SEND Focus Group to develop and improve our provision. We always welcome your feedback.

An Introduction to Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) at Tacolneston and Morley CE Primary Academies Federation

2023-24

Parent/Carer Information Leaflet

What is SEND?

The SEN Code of Practice says a child or young person has a special educational need (SEN) if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them which is different from or additional to that normally available to pupils of the same age.

The Equality Act 2010 says a child is disabled if they have a physical or mental impairment which has a long term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities.

There is a significant overlap between these two groups, who we refer to as pupils with SEND.

Working in Partnership

- We actively seek to involve children in decision making about their own support and learning.
- We aim to develop pupil independence by building a toolbox of strategies they can use.
- We work in partnership with parents/carers and are developing a range of opportunities to include parent/carer voice when reviewing provision.

Barriers to Learning

In January 2023, 17.3% of pupils in schools in England were reported to have some type of Special Educational Need or Disability (SEND). That's approximately five children in every class. Typical difficulties may be with:

- Reading, writing or mathematics
- Understanding information
- Expressing themselves
- Social communication
- Organization and planning
- Processing new information
- Self-regulation
- Sensory processing
- Social, emotional and mental health needs

These difficulties can cause barriers to learning. We focus on identifying a child's strengths as well as the extra provision that is needed to help them overcome and remove these barriers. We record this information in an Individual Learning Plan.

As described in the SEND Code of Practice (2015) we follow the Graduated Approach of Assess, Plan, Do, Review (APDR), to ensure that support given is having a positive impact on progress and outcomes.

Personalised Provision

Depending on the individual needs of the child, in addition to our core support, we will provide:

- A personalised or adapted curriculum
- Access to specialist equipment such as ICT and other Tools for Learning
- In-class support from a TA or volunteers
- Group-intervention programmes
- One-to-one intervention programmes
- Special Access Arrangements for exams/tests
- Assessment from a specialist professional such as an Educational Psychologist or Specialist Learning Support Teacher
- Delivery of programmes set by specialist services, such as a Speech and Language Therapist or Occupational Therapist.

If you have any concerns

- Speak to your child's class teacher first – they will be able to talk to you about your child's day-to-day school experiences.
- Speak to the SENDCo at our termly SENDCo Surgery or contact the School Office to arrange a phonecall / appointment.
- Read our SEND Information Report and look at the Local Offer website.
- Contact SENDIASS for impartial support and guidance.
